Hello, my name is Glenn Sheppard.

I am Australian. I am 50 years old. I am a father of four adult daughters. I am single.

This resumé is a very brief summary of my work and professional background of the last 32 years. The highlights include normal day to day employment as well as self-employment and thus working independent of the mainstream work environment

My life is extraordinarily rich with experience in working with people directly and being sensitive to their needs. This translates very well into the field of teaching English to non-native speakers. Potentially, my main weakness may be a lack of Spanish or other language knowledge.

I have a wide variety and depth of interests including health (stemming from my professional background), aviation (again related to work experiences), music (as a guitar player) and basically fascinated by life in general.

Cheers, Glenn

Professional and general work experience

1996-2011

I have practised extensively as a nurse and midwife within Australia both as an employee and self-employed in my own business. My duties have always included direct patient care for a wide variety of clients in a wide variety of settings. Work responsibilities have also required a regular education component with client/patients and staff in mostly informal settings. I have frequently held management positions responsible for supervising junior staff and communicating with senior management and medical staff.

1994-1996

Self-employed in the hospitality industry

Professional and general work experience (cont)

1983-1994

Training and practise as a nurse and midwife within hospital settings

1980-1983

Various employment positions including journalism and youth work

Other interests

Teaching English to people from non-English speaking backgrounds, guitar, learning Spanish and other languages, travel, yoga, aviation, and healthy living in general including holistic approaches to maintaining health.
